A RATIO compares one thing to another thing. We do not treat ratios as a single number but as a relationship between more than one thing.

A RATIO compares one thing to another thing. We do not treat ratios as a single number but as a relationship between more than one thing.