Jackson Will

Taste

When I went to Baltimore I went to a crab shack and another one. I guess my parents like crabs. The crab shack had smooth crispy savory crabs and lobster. It was really good. I learned about a crab's heart and lungs and I had to peel the lungs and heart out of the crab. I had to crack the shell with a mallet. It was fun but a mess. I got too carried away with the mallet and I almost smashed my own finger at both crab shacks.
